Notes for Contributors

OSMP welcomes submissions in all areas of medieval philosophy. Papers received will be evaluated in a timely manner and an effort to provide significant feedback will be made in every case. To the fullest extent possible, papers will be refereed according to a triple-blind process, so that the author will not know the identity of the referee, the referee will not know the identity of the author, and the editor will learn the identity of the author only after a first-round decision about the paper has been reached.

In addition to articles, we welcome editions of texts and brief critical discussions of recently published articles (both in OSMP and elsewhere). Book reviews, however, will be published only when solicited.

Submissions should be in English, without the author's name or any other information that would impede blind refereeing. Papers may be of any length, although contributors should bear in mind that longer submissions will be judged by higher standard for acceptance.

Papers should be submitted as either .pdf or Word-compatible files. The formatting of the initial submission is immaterial, but accepted papers will ultimately need to adhere to OSMP style, as on display in this present volume. All submissions, as well as queries, should be addressed to osmp@colorado.edu. Please do not send queries directly to the editor, since this compromises the process of blind review.