Essay Checklist

I. Introduction Yes __No __ 1. Is my introduction concise? Yes __ No __ Does it contain a clear statement of my main thesis? Yes __No __ 3. Does it indicate very briefly my main line of argument? 4. Does it explain the overall structure of my essay? Yes __ No __ II. Logical and Perspicuous Structure Yes __No __ 1. Is my essay organized into sections in a logical fashion? 2. Are the sections divided into appropriate subsections? Yes __No __ Have I made the overall structure of my essay clear by using informative headings for sections and subsections? Yes __ No __ IIIA. Overall Structure for Essays Focusing upon an Argument 1. Have I formulated the relevant argument in a careful and explicit fashion? Yes __ No __ 2. If I am criticizing the argument, have I made it clear exactly Yes __No __ what step in the argument my criticism is directed against? Have I set out the most important objections that might be raised to the view that I am defending? Yes No 4. Have I offered careful and detailed responses to those Yes __No __ objections? IIIB. Overall Structure for Essays Focusing upon a Thesis Yes __No __ Have I stated the thesis clearly? 2. Have I formulated the relevant argument (or arguments) in a careful and explicit fashion? Yes __No __ Have I set out the most important objections that might Yes __No __ be offered? 4. Have I responded in a careful and detailed way to those Yes __No __ objections? IV. Exposition of Arguments 1. Are arguments carefully set out, so that both all of the assumptions, and the reasoning, are clear? Yes __No __ Have I, at any point, set out more than one argument in a single paragraph? Yes __No __ 3. Are objections and responses set out in separate Yes __No __ paragraphs?

V. Consideration of Possible Responses to your own Arguments

1. Have I explicitly indicated to the reader which of the assumptions in my arguments are philosophically controversial, and why?	YesNo 2. Have I then offered reasons for thinking that those assumptions are nevertheless plausible?	YesNo
3. Have I considered, and responded to, counterarguments directed against the conclusions of my arguments?	YesNo
VI. Overall Clarity and Conciseness
1. Is my writing clear and straightforward ?	YesNo
2. Is my writing concise?	Yes No