A. Publications:

1. Books Published/Distributed

- Pattern, control, and contrast in beginning speech: A case study in the development of word form and word function.* By L. Menn. Dissertation, University of Illinois, Urbana, 1976. Published, Bloomington: Indiana University Linguistic Club (1979). Pp. 291 (incl. appendix).
- Exceptional Language and Linguistics.* Ed. by L. K. Obler & L. Menn. New York: Academic Press (1982). Pp. 372.
- Handbook for grant proposal preparation.* Ed. by A. Peters, L. Menn, P. Chapin, and H. Aguerre. Washington, D.C.: Linguistic Society of America (1986). Pp. 247 (revised version viewable on NSF website).
- Agrammatic Aphasia: A Cross-Language Narrative Sourcebook.* Ed. by L. Menn & L. K. Obler. Amsterdam: John Benjamins (1990). 3 vols., pp. 1,985.
- Phonological Development: Models, Research, Implications.* Ed. by C. A. Ferguson, L. Menn, and C. Stoel-Gammon. Parkton, MD: York Press (1992). Pp. 693.
- Non-fluent Aphasia in a Multi-Lingual World.* L. Menn, M.P. O'Connor, L.K. Obler, & Audrey L. Holland. Amsterdam: John Benjamins. (1995) pp. xvii+212.
- Methods for Studying Language Production.* L. Menn & N. B. Ratner (eds). Hillsdale, NJ: Erlbaum. (2000) pp.vi + 438.

2. Articles Published in refereed journals, books, or proceedings

- Phonotactic rules in beginning speech. (By L. Menn.) Lingua 26.225-241 (1971).
- On me. (By L. Menn.) Linguistic Inquiry 3.228-233 (1972).
- On the origin and growth of phonological and syntactic rules. (By L. Menn.) Papers from the Ninth Regional Meeting of the Chicago Linguistic Society, pp. 378-385 (1973).
- A counter-example to fronting as a universal of child language. (By L. Menn.) Journal of Child Language 2.293-297 (1975).
- Now you see it, now you don't: Tracing the development of communicative competence. (By L. Menn & S. Haselkorn.) In J. Kegl (ed.), Proceedings of the 7th Annual Meeting of the Northeast Linguistic Society (1976), pp. 249-260.
- On the acquisition of phonology. (By P. Kiparsky & L. Menn.) In John Macnamara (ed.), Language Learning and Thought. New York: Academic Press (1977), pp. 47-78. Reprinted in G. Ioup & S. H. Weinberger (eds.), Interlanguage Phonology: The Acquisition of a Second Language Sound System. Cambridge, MA: Newbury House (1987), pp. 23-52.
- Phonological units in beginning speech. (By L. Menn.) In Alan Bell and Joan B. Hooper (eds.), Syllables and Segments. Amsterdam: North-Holland (1978), pp. 157-172.
- Elvish loanwords in Indo-European: Cultural implications. (By L. Menn.) In J. Allan (ed.), An Introduction to Elvish. Somerset: Bran's Head Books Ltd. (1978), pp.143-151. [Parody]. Book reprinted 1995.
- Perception and production of phonemic contrasts. (By P. Menyuk & L. Menn.) In Paul Fletcher & M. Garman (eds.), Studies in Language Acquisition. Cambridge: University Press (1979), pp. 49-70. Revised as Early strategies for the perception and production of words and sounds. (By P. Menyuk, L. Menn, & R. Silber). In P. Fletcher and M. Garman, (eds.), Language Acquisition, 2nd edition. Cambridge: University Press (1986), pp. 198-222.
- Peaks vary, end-points don't: Implications for linguistic theory. (By S. Boyce & L. Menn.) Proceedings of the 6th Annual Meeting of the Berkeley Linguistic Society. Linguistics Dept., University of California, Berkeley (1979), pp. 373-384.

- Child phonology and phonological theory. (By L. Menn.) In G. Yeni-Komshian, J. Kavanagh, & C. A. Ferguson (eds.), Child Phonology: Perception and Production, vol. 1. New York: Academic Press (1980), pp. 23–42.
- Exceptional language data as linguistic evidence: An introduction. (By L. Menn & L. K. Obler.) In L. K. Obler & L. Menn (eds.), Exceptional Language and Linguistics. New York: Academic Press (1982), pp. 3–14.
- Child language as a source of constraints on linguistic theory. (By L. Menn.) In L. K. Obler & L. Menn (eds.), Exceptional Language and Linguistics. New York: Academic Press (1982), pp. 247–260.
- Fundamental frequency and discourse structure. (By L. Menn & S. Boyce.) Language and Speech 25.341–383 (1982).
- Development of articulatory, phonetic, and phonological capabilities. (By L. Menn.) In Brian Butterworth (ed.), Language Production, vol. 2. London: Academic Press (1983), pp. 3–50.
- Contrasting cases of Italian agrammatic aphasia without comprehension disorder. (By G. Miceli, A. Mazzucchi, L. Menn, & H. Goodglass.) Brain and Language 19.65–97 (1983).
- The repeated morph constraint: towards an explanation. (By L. Menn & B. MacWhinney.) Language 60.419–541 (1984).
- Phonological development. (By L. Menn.) In J. Berko Gleason (ed.), Language Development. Columbus: Merrill (1985), pp. 61–102. Revised for 2nd edition (1989), pp. 59–100; for 3rd edition, together with Carol Stoel-Gammon (1993), pp. 65–113; for 4th edition (1997), 69–121, for 5th edition, 2000.
- Is agrammatism a unitary phenomenon? (By H. Goodglass & L. Menn.) In M.-L. Kean (ed.), Agrammatism. New York: Academic Press (1985), pp. 1–26.
- Baby talk as stereotype and register. (By L. Menn & J. Berko Gleason.) In J. A. Fishman et al. (eds.), The Fergusonian Impact, vol. 1, From Phonology to Society. Berlin: Mouton de Gruyter (1986), pp. 111–125.
- Language acquisition, aphasia, and phonotactic universals. (By L. Menn.) In F. R. Eckman et al. (eds.), Markedness. New York: Plenum (1986), pp. 241–255.
- Lexical retrieval: The tip of the tongue phenomenon. (By S. Kohn, A. Wingfield, L. Menn, H. Goodglass, J. Berko Gleason, and M.R. Hyde) Applied Psycholinguistics 8.245–266 (1987).
- Findings of the Cross-Language Agrammatism Study, Phase I: Agrammatic narrative. (By L. Menn & L. K. Obler.) Aphasiology 2.347–350 (1988).
- Agrammatism: The state of the art. (By L. K. Obler & L. Menn.) Journal of Neurolinguistics 3.63–76 (1988).
- Some people who don't talk right: Universal and particular in child language, aphasia, and language obsolescence. (By L. Menn.) In Nancy Dorian (ed.), Investigating obsolescence: Studies in language contraction and death. Cambridge: University Press (1989), pp. 335–345.
- Comparing approaches to comparative aphasiology. (By L. Menn.) Aphasiology 3.143–150 (1989).
- Chapter 1, Introduction. (By L. Menn & L. K. Obler.) In Agrammatic Aphasia, vol. I, pp. 3–12 (1990).
- Chapter 2, Methodology. (By L. Menn & L. K. Obler.) In Agrammatic Aphasia, vol. I, pp. 13–36 (1990).
- Chapter 4, Two cases of agrammatism in English. (By L. Menn.) In Agrammatic Aphasia, vol. I, pp. 117–178 (1990).
- Chapter 20, Conclusion: Cross-language data and theories of agrammatism. (By L. Menn & L. K. Obler.) In Agrammatic Aphasia, vol. II, pp. 1369–1389 (1990).
- Concreteness: Nouns, verbs, and hemispheres. (By Z. Eviatar, L. Menn, & E. Zaidel.) Cortex 26.611–624. (1990)
- Building our own models: Child phonology comes of age. (By L. Menn) In Ferguson, Menn, & Stoel-Gammon (eds.), Phonological Development: Models, Research, Implications, pp. 3–15 (1992).
- The “two-lexicon” model of child phonology: Looking back, looking ahead. (By L. Menn and E. Matthei.) In Ferguson, Menn, & Stoel-Gammon (eds.), Phonological Development: Models, Research, Implications, pp. 211–247 (1992).
- Connectionist modeling and the microstructure of phonological development. (By L. Menn, K. Markey, M. Mozer, & C. Lewis.) In B. de Boysson-Bardies, S. de Schonen, P. Juszczyk, P. MacNeilage, & J. Morton (eds.), Developmental Neurocognition: Speech and Face Processing in the First Year of Life. Dordrecht: Kluwer (1993), pp. 421–33.
- False starts and filler syllables: Ways to learn grammatical morphemes. (By A. M. Peters & L. Menn). Language 69:4 (1993). pp. 742–777.

- A linguistic communication measure for aphasic narratives. (L. Menn, G. Ramsberger, & N. Helm-Estabrooks). Aphasiology 8:343–359. (1994).
- Phonological development. (1995) By L. Menn & Carol Stoel-Gammon. In Paul Fletcher & B. MacWhinney (eds.), A Handbook of Child Language. Oxford: Blackwell. pp. 335–359.
- Cross-linguistic studies of aphasia: Why and how (1996). Overview for Aphasiology Special Issue on Comparative Aphasiology. By L. Menn, Jussi Niemi, & Elisabeth Ahlsèn. Aphasiology 10:6 (523–531).
- Evidence Children Use: Learnability and the Acquisition of Morphology. (1997) In Proceedings of the 22nd annual meeting of the Berkeley Linguistic Society. Berkeley, CA: Linguistics Department.
- Menn, L. and A. Peters. (1998) Permeable Modules: On evolving and acquiring language-specific capacities. In A. Aksu-Koc et al, Perspectives on Language Acquisition: Selected Papers from the VIIth Congress for the Study of Child Language. Bogazici University Press, Istanbul.
- The interaction of preserved pragmatics and impaired syntax in Japanese and English aphasic speech. By L. Menn, K. F. Reilly, M. Hayashi, A. Kamio, I. Fujita, and S. Sasanuma. Brain and Language, 61: 183–225 (1998).
- The role of empathy in sentence production: A functional analysis of aphasic and normal elicited narratives in Japanese and English. (1999) L. Menn, A. Kamio, M. Hayashi, I. Fujita, S. Sasanuma, & L. Boles. In A. Kamio and K. Takami (eds.), Function and Structure. Amsterdam: John Benjamins. pp.317–355.

Organizer, "Converging on Cognition" Colloquium series, Spring 1988 through Fall 1990, Fall 1999

Chair, Self-Study Committee, 1999–2000

Campus: Fulbright interviewer, Fall 1993, Fall 2004, Fall 2005

Internal Review Committee for Psychology Department, 1996–97

member, promotion committee, Prof. Christine Yoshinaga-Itano, SLHS, F 1998

member, promotion committee, Prof. Kumiko Takahara, EALC, 1999–2000

member, promotion committee, Prof. Brenda Schick, SLHS, 2006–2007

College: Chair, A&S Committee on Diversity, 1993–94

A&S Ad hoc Committee on Diversity, 1994–95

A&S Social Science Associate Dean Search Committee, Fall 1996

A&S Social Science Budget Committee, Fall 1996

Internal Review Committee for Service Learning, 1999–2000

A&S Personnel (Promotion/Tenure) Committee, 2000–2002

University: Human Research Committee, Fall 1990; Fall 1991–Summer 1992.

Ad hoc Vice-Chancellor's Committee on Disabilities Services, Fall 1997

CRCW, S 2000

E. Consultation

Consultant, NIH neurolinguistics review panel, Summer 2004

Consultant, Concept Review, National Institute on Aging/NIH, Fall 1992, Summer 1994

Ad Hoc panel member, National Institute of General Medical Sciences, Spring 1993

F. Other Personal and Professional DataAcademic History:

- B.A. 1962, Swarthmore College, Mathematics (honors)
- M.A. 1964, Brandeis University, Mathematics
- M.A. 1975, University of Illinois/Urbana, Linguistics
- Ph.D. 1976, University of Illinois/Urbana, Linguistics

Professional Employment:

- August 2007 – present: Professor Emerita and adjunct, Linguistics; Fellow, Institute of Cognitive Science, University of Colorado, Boulder
- October 1994–August 2007: Professor of Linguistics, University of Colorado, Boulder
- 2004–2009: Visiting Professor, University of Hunan.
- 2001–2004: Adjunct professor, University of Hunan.
- Summer 2001: Visiting Professor, University of Hunan.
- Summer 1995: Visiting Professor, University of New Mexico.
- June–Aug 1995: Associate Director, Linguistic Institute, University of New Mexico.
- August 1986–October 1994: Associate Professor of Linguistics, University of Colorado, Boulder (tenure granted 1990).
- December 1990–June 1991: Visiting Researcher, Dokkyo University, Japan.
- 1989–1994: Research Affiliate, Speech Pathology, Denver Veterans Administration Hospital.
- June/July 1988: Visiting Researcher, Tokyo Metropolitan Institute of Gerontology.
- January 1982–June 1986: Assistant Professor of Neurology (Neurolinguistics), Boston University School of Medicine.
- August 1983–July 1984: Senior Postdoctoral Fellow, Psychology Department, University of California at Los Angeles (Sponsor, Eran Zaidel).
- September 1981–June 1986: Adjunct Assistant Professor, Language Behavior Program, Boston University.
- September 1980–June 1986: Adjunct Assistant Professor, Psychology Department, Clark University.
- July 1977–June 1986: Research Affiliate, Speech Communication Group, Research Laboratory of Electronics, MIT.
- December 1977–January 1982: Research Associate, Aphasia Research Center, Boston University School of Medicine.
- May 1977–October 1979: Research Associate, Psychology Department, Boston University.
- September 1977–May 1978: Visiting Lecturer, Psychology Department, Boston State College. Program of Continuing Education.
- Summer 1977: Research Associate, Child Phonology Project, Linguistics Department, Stanford University.
- February–June 1977: Research Associate, Speech Communication Group, Research Laboratory of Electronics, MIT.
- February 1976–January 1977: Social Science Research Council Postdoctoral Fellow, School of Education, Boston University (Sponsor: Paula Menyuk).
- Summers 1961, 1960: Student trainee, National Bureau of Standards Programmable English Grammar Project.

Research Interests:

- Phonological and morphological development in children
- Computer modeling of morphological and phonological development.
- Interaction of discourse structure with syntactic deficits in aphasia.
- Psycholinguistic models of sentence production in discourse context.
- Conversation analysis of aphasic communication.
- Cognitive science: space and language.
- Brain lateralization/localization of language functions.
- General psycholinguistics: developmental, normal, and aphasic.

Professional Organizations:

- Life Member, Linguistic Society of America, since 1987 (member, 1968 – present)
- Member, Academy of Aphasia, 1986 – present.
- Member, International Association for the Study of Child Language, 1978 – present.
- Member, American Association for the Advancement of Science, 1993 – present.

G. Teaching

Short courses taught post-retirement

Short course (five 90-min lectures): The art of analyzing aphasic language production. University of Åbo, Finland, Oct 22–24, 2008.

Short course (eight 2hr lectures): Materials and method for teaching psycholinguistics. Federal University of Santa Catarina, Florianópolis SC, Brazil. Nov.–Dec. 2008.

Courses taught:

At University of Colorado:

Language in U.S. Society, Ling. 1000 Introduction to Linguistics, Ling. 2000
 Linguistic Phonetics, Ling. 4030/5030 Psycholinguistics, Ling 4220
 Topics in Linguistics: Language and Thought, Ling. 4100
 Language Development, Ling./Psych./Comm.Dis. 4560
 Introduction to Diachronic Linguistics, Ling. 497/597
 Research in Psycholinguistics, Ling. 5300 Language Acquisition: Ling. 681, Ling. 6/7560
 Seminars in Language Acquisition: Ling. 781, Ling. 8560
 Seminar in Language Evolution and Development
 Readings in Cognitive Science, Ling 7762
 Directed readings in neurolinguistics, sociolinguistics, psycholinguistics, 2nd language phonetics
 Perspectives on East Asian Languages and Cultures (with Laurel Rasplica Rodd), Ling/EALL 5950

Elsewhere:

Neurolinguistics: Hunan University, Changsha, Hunan, 2003
 Psycholinguistics: National Yang Ming University, Taipei, Taiwan, 2003
 Psycholinguistics: Hunan University, Changsha, Hunan, 2001
 Lecturer, Research Course, Nordic Academy for Advanced Study, University of Joensuu, Finland, June 22–29, 1998
 Neurolinguistics: University of New Mexico, Linguistic Institute, Summer 1995
 Language Development: graduate courses for special education certification, Boston State College Evening Division, 1977–78.
 Neurolinguistics: joint Clark University/Boston University advanced graduate seminar, co-taught with Davis Howes.
 Child Phonology reading courses: Boston University Program in Language Behavior.
