

Preparing for Registration

At the conclusion of this module, you should:

1. Be able to locate your registration time on myCUinfo.
2. Search for courses using the Advanced Search Criteria
3. Read and interpret a course description, including associated restrictions and prerequisites.

Locating your registration time assignment

You are provided with a specific time assignment (also called an Enrollment Appointment) for registration. Time assignments are based on your number of credit hours (earned and in-progress). Generally speaking, the more credits you have, the earlier you can register. Your time assignment is set prior to registration and cannot be changed by your advisor. This date/time indicates the earliest you can begin registering for classes for the next semester.

Login to <https://mycuinfo.colorado.edu>.
Click on the Student tab.

The screenshot shows the myCUinfo website for the University of Colorado Boulder. The top navigation bar includes 'Welcome', 'Student', 'Faculty', and 'CU Resources'. The 'Student' tab is selected. Below the navigation bar, there are several sections: 'ACADEMIC RESOURCES' with links like 'Register for Classes', 'Add/Drop/Swap Classes', 'Search Classes', and 'Degree Audit / Transfer Credit Evaluation'; 'Student Services' with links like 'Academic Advising', 'Academic Enrichment Programs', and 'Graduate School Calendar'; and 'CU-Boulder Campus Alerts'. A red rectangle highlights the 'Search Classes' link under 'ACADEMIC RESOURCES'.

Under Academic Resources, click any of the buttons labeled Online Student Center.

The screenshot shows the myCUinfo Student Center page. The left sidebar contains a 'Registration starts here' section with instructions. The main content area is divided into 'Academics' and 'Finances' sections. The 'Academics' section includes a 'This Week's Schedule' table and a 'weekly schedule' link. The 'Finances' section includes an 'Account Summary-Continuing Education' table. On the right side, there is a 'SEARCH FOR CLASSES' button and a list of links: 'Holds', 'To Do List', 'Enrollment Dates', 'Advisor', and 'Messages'. The 'Enrollment Dates' link is circled in red.

As you can see, this student was eligible to register for the Spring 2011 semester on November 8, 2010.

To see the specific time associated with your enrollment appointment, click on the details link (denoted by the red arrow). This leads to a page that outlines a specific start AND end date to your registration window. While every student's registration start time may differ, the end date is usually the same. Pay close attention to these start and end dates as neither you nor your advisor can register you for classes outside of this window.

General registration deadlines and dates can be found on the Registrar's website: http://registrar.colorado.edu/calendar/calendars\_schedules.html.

Viewing holds

Holds are placed on student accounts for various reasons. You can view your holds in the same location on myCUinfo as your Enrollment Date.

Academic Advising Required

Reason and Contact

Description: CU Boulder

Start Term Fall 2011

Start Date 02/25/2011

Reason: Academic Advising Required

Department: REGSTUDTSVCS-REGIST SVCS

Contact:

Instructions

Contact your major advisor.

Here you can see this hold requires the student to meet with his/her major advisor for academic advising. In general, only the office that placed the hold can remove the hold. Academic advisors can ONLY lift holds related to academic advising.

There are many different types of holds. Nearly all of them can prevent you from registering on time if you ignore them. You should make checking your account for holds a part of your registration routine so you have ample time to resolve the hold prior to your registration time.

Searching for courses

When conducting any search, it is critical to make sure you are searching in the correct term (green arrow) and the correct campus (red arrow). Unless you are considering Continuing Education courses, it is best to always select Boulder Main Campus. You can search by basic criteria such as course subject and course number (i.e. PHIL 1200). You can also search for lower and upper division courses for specific departments.

For example, if you wish to search for all upper division English courses,

1. Type ENGL in the Course Subject field.
2. Next to Course Number, use the pull down menu to select “greater than or equal to” and then type 3000 next to it.

This will produce a list of ENGL courses numbered 3000 or higher which are upper division English classes.

Using the Additional Search Criteria

The Additional Search Criteria options can be helpful during registration in narrowing down your searches to more manageable lists of potential courses. Here are highlighted options:

The screenshot shows a web form titled "Additional Search Criteria" with a green header bar. The form contains several search filters. Four specific sections are highlighted with colored boxes and numbered circles:

- Section 1 (Blue box): Includes "Meeting Start Time" (dropdown: greater than or equal to), "Meeting End Time" (dropdown: less than or equal to), and "Day of Week" (dropdown: include only these days, with checkboxes for Mon, Tues, Wed, Thurs, Fri, Sat, Sun). A circled "1" is next to the "Meeting End Time" dropdown.
- Section 2 (Red box): Includes "Instructor Last Name" (dropdown: is exactly) and a text input field. A circled "2" is next to the dropdown.
- Section 3 (Purple box): Includes "Course Title Keyword" and a text input field with the example "statistics". A circled "3" is next to the input field.
- Section 4 (Green box): Includes "Class Attribute(Core, GT, Honors etc.)" and "Department", both with dropdown menus. A circled "4" is next to the "Class Attribute" dropdown.

Other visible fields include "Class Nbr" (text input, example: 11361), "Minimum Units" (dropdown: greater than or equal to), "Maximum Units" (dropdown: less than or equal to), "Course Component" (dropdown), "Session" (dropdown), "School/College" (dropdown), "Attribute Value" (dropdown), "Mode of Instruction" (dropdown), and "Location" (dropdown). At the bottom are two buttons: "CLEAR CRITERIA" and "SEARCH".

1. Meeting times: You can limit your search to certain start and end times (i.e., 11:00am to 11:50am) as well as certain days of the week. This is a convenient tool but sometimes it only finds the recitation sections of courses where the lecture is offered at different times and days.
2. Instructor Last Name: Use this option to find courses taught by your favorite instructors.
3. Course Title Keyword: Use this option to search by keywords in course titles. This is especially useful when you have heard about a certain course but cannot remember the department and/or number.
4. This last feature is the most efficient way to search for Arts and Sciences Core classes taught in a given semester.

Searching for Arts and Sciences Core classes

You will need to use both pull-down menus to narrow your search. First, use the menu to select “Boulder A&S Core Requirements” as shown below.

1. In Class Details, you can find information about the campus location (Main Campus vs. Continuing Education), credit hours, and whether the class includes a recitation and/or lab.
2. Meeting Information reveals the meeting times, location and instructor for the particular course. Meeting dates can also help you verify the correct semester. This is especially helpful during times when more than one registration period is active.
3. Enrollment information will include information course requirements and attributes such as what core categories (if any) the course fulfills.
4. Class Availability covers available seats and waitlist information.
5. Description includes not only the course description but course prerequisites and/or co-requisites.

Course Restrictions

Prerequisites are certain requirements that must be completed prior to enrolling in a given course. They can be found in different locations in the course description.

Description

Covers general psychological principles underlying social behavior. Analyzes major social psychological theories, methods, and topics, including attitudes, conformity, aggression, attraction, social perception, helping behavior, and group relations. Prereq., PSYC 1001. Credit not granted for this course and PSYC 4406. Approved for arts and sciences core curriculum: contemporary societies.

However, by examining the details for any of these sections, you can see that PSYC2606 requires a prerequisite of PSYC1001. Although the restriction did not appear in the section listings, it is still there in the course description. Sometimes the registration system will “enforce” the prerequisite, meaning that you would not be able to register for a course without having met the prerequisite. Other times, however, it will not prevent you from registering. Ultimately, it is your responsibility to ensure that you have met or will meet all of the prerequisites and co-requisites for any registered course. Otherwise the instructor has the authority to drop you from the course if you do not meet the necessary prerequisites.

Departmental Restrictions

Departments may also restrict access to sections of certain courses. For those sections, you would not be able to register without consent from that department, even though you meet the prerequisites/co-requisites for that course.

Description

Rhetorically informed introduction to college writing. Focuses on critical analysis, argument, inquiry, and information literacy. Taught as a writing workshop, the course places a premium on invention, drafting, and thoughtful revision. For placement criteria, see the arts and sciences advising office. May be repeated up to 6 total credit hours. Meets MAPS requirement for English. Approved for arts and sciences core curriculum: written communication.

In this example, the section of WRTG1150 requires department consent but the reason why is harder to find since it is not included in Notes. Under Class Attributes in Enrollment Information, you can see this course is associated with Farrand Residential Academic Program. This likely means the section is restricted to Farrand RAP participants only. When in doubt, though, consult your advisor for clarification.

Registration preparation tips

- Review your degree audit – It doesn't matter if you are a declared major or open option; every student should review their degree audit prior to registration. Check to see what MAPS, core or major courses you still need to take and start creating a list of possible classes.
- Decide which requirements to fulfill next semester – No need to do this on your own. Your advisor is the perfect resource to discuss your course ideas. Advisors will provide sound advice to help you develop a manageable schedule for the upcoming semester. Advising demand definitely peaks during registration so make sure to plan in advance to meet with your advisor.
- Search for classes – You should now have a few more strategies for searching for courses. Remember you can search for courses and add them to your shopping cart prior to your registration time. Planning ahead will make enrolling in those courses easier when your registration time arrives.
- Take care of registration holds – Don't let a registration hold keep you from registering on time. Check the system for any holds and follow the instructions on how to resolve registration holds.
- Register on time – Start enrolling in classes as soon as your registration time arrives. It maximizes your chances of getting the courses you want.
